5 BUNDS

Congratulations! You've just given the coolest gift possible: a water bund or as we also like to call it, an earth smile. A water bund is a half-moon shaped pit that captures rainwater, which allows seeds in the soil to sprout and vegetation to grow back. They are dug by communities in our project areas in Kenya. This positively benefits the livelihood of the communities, water availability, biodiversity, food security – and eventually our climate. Because, a greener planet is a cooler planet!
